Lieut. Gilmore and Party Prisoners of the Insurgents.

WORD FROM THE OFFICE

Captives Well Treated—Provisions
Sent to Them—A Report Made
By General Otis.

MANILA, May 2, 2:55 p. m.—The first authentic information regarding Lieut. J. C. Gilmore and his party of fourteen men of the gunboat Yorktown, who were captured by the Filipinos on April 12th, was received today at the hands of Maj. Argueles of the staff of Gen. Antonio Luna.

It is in the form of a list of the missing men and is signed by Lieut.
Gilmore. The lieutenant reports that he and his party have been brought across the mountains from Baler,
where they were captured.

This information was brought in response to a note which Maj. Gen. Mac-Arthur sent to Luna by Maj. Shields and Lieut. Hayne, and which those officers, bearing a flag of truce, carried across Gen. Luna's lines yesterday evening. The note, after asking for prisoners in Gen. Luna's hands, concluded with the message that he (Gen.
MacArthur) would be pleased to meet
Gen. Luna.

Maj. Shields and Lieut. Hayne found a span of the railroad bridge, a mile from St. Thomas, broken.

The officers sent the provisions for the prisoners on a hand car at the end of the bridge, placing the car in the keeping of the Filipinos, whose conduct throughout the various negotiations has been all that could be expected of a civilized nation.

WASHINGTON, May 2.—The following cablegram was received at the War Department at midnight:

"MANILA, May 3.—Adjutant-General, Washington: List of prisoners in the hands of insurgents just received shows Lieut. Gilmore and several enlisted men in the navy lost from the Yorktown, and six enlisted men from the army. Three of the six were wrongfully arrested in January before hostilities commenced; all reported to be doing well. Besides the above, two men in the hands of the insurgents, South and Capt. Rockefeller, still unaccounted for.

OTIS."

Pygmalion and Galatea.

The farewell performance of Janet Waldorf and company was given at the Opera house last evening. The play was "Pygmalion and Galatea," repeated by request. There was a fairly good and appreciative audience. Miss Waldorf's Galatea, as has been said before, was just as sweet as it could be.
Mr. McVay's Crysos was as funny as ever, and Miss Boyer's reading of the part of Pygmalion's wife was perfect.

Although this was the farewell night of the Waldorf company at the Opera house they give one more performance of "As You Like It" in the open air with the grounds at Punahou as an ideal forest of Arden. The performance is for the benefit of the combined charities of the city. There should be large patronage for this reason. But, besides, how many have seen an open air performance of "As You Like It?" The play is doubly realistic with natural tropical surroundings.

Trial of Rioters

The case of the Kahuku Japanese was the center of attraction at the Government building yesterday. There was a crowd of people coming and going and the corridors had more life
than they have had for some time.
The same Chinaman who was put on at the opening of the case, began the morning's testimony. He gave evidence in regard to the numerous cuts he had received during the melee and identified one of the defendants.

The next witness was Manager Weight of Kahuku plantation. He gave an account of the riot as he had seen it. As soon as he learned that the fight was in progress he mounted his horse and rode to the scene. He described and described in

To All Parts of The Pacific Coast.

talled his efforts in subduing the trouble. His testimony occupied the greater portion of the afternoon.
The night session was taken up with evidence along the same line.

General H. G. Otis.

Gen. Harrison Gray Otis, who went through Honolulu with one of the earlier expeditions to Manila, and made many friends during his stay here, has returned to his home at Los Angeles.
Upon his arrival there he met with a royal welcome. Thousands of people shook the hand of the soldier-editor,
who responded in a few modest words.

TO WED A PRINCE

Gen. Grant's Granddaughter Meets Her Fate.

A Pretty Romance of Ancient Rome—Lucky Man at the Head of a Russian House.

CHICAGO, May 3.—Julia Grant, daughter of Brig.-General Frederick Grant, is engaged to Prince Cantacuzene of Russia, late military attaché of his country's embassy at Rome. The report reached Chicago today. Gen.
Grant, who is in the city with his wife
for a brief visit before he departs for the Philippines to serve on Gen. Otis' staff, confirmed it tonight. Miss Grant has been abroad with her aunt, Mrs.
Potter Palmer, for several months and both are stopping in Paris.

The engagement marks an end of the first chapter of a romance which began not more than three months ago in Rome. Prince Cantacuzene was at that time with the Russian Embassy, and with several other young officers, was attracted by the handsome American girl.
When Mrs. Palmer took her fair charge to Caens, the Prince followed.
It is surmised that the Prince asked for Miss Grant's hand after she reached Paris.

Prince Cantacuzene is 25 years old and a lieutenant in the Imperial Guards. The family is one of the greatest and oldest in Russia and he became the head of the house with the death of his father. He owns vast estates just east of Moscow, where he maintains a magnificent chateau. He is said to be unusually talented and a young man of fine character.

ARMISTICE IN SAMOA.

APIA, Samoa, April 27.—Via Auckland, New Zealand, May 3
—Mataafa, the rebel chieftain,
has accepted an armistice.

The Germans, however, declined to sign the proclamation.
WASHINGTON, May 3.—Officials at the German Embassy say that up to the close of office hours no recent communication had been received of events in Samoa. Evidently nothing of an important nature was expected for some time, as Em-bassador von Holleben has left the city for a visit of several days to New York.

Fuller reports of affairs leading up to the armistice are awaited with much interest, and the hope is confidently expressed that the Mataafa element has decided to submit and await the decision of the joint Commission now on its way
there. Germany, it was stated, was anxious that there should be an end to hostilities.

M'KINLEY CABLES DEWEY

NEW YORK, May 1.—President Mc-Kinley today sent the following to Admiral Dewey:

"May 1, 1899.—Dewey, Manila: On this anniversary of your great victory,
the people of the United States unite in an expression of affection and gratitude to yourself and the brave officers and men of your fleet, whose brilliant achievements marked an epoch in history which will live in the annals of the world's heroic deeds.

"WILLIAM M'KINLEY."

RIOT IN IDAHO

Lawless Acts of a Great Mob of Excited Miners.

BOLD USE OF DYNAMITE

Property to the Value of $200,000
Destroyed—Martial Law Declared
—Arrests Made.

BOISE, Idaho, May 3.—Governor
Hoganberg tonight issued a proclamation declaring Shoshone county in a state of insurrection. This will result in placing the government of the county, in so far as it may be necessary, under military rule.

WARDNER, Idaho, May 3.—All day long the work of arresting the men believed to have been connected with the Bunker Hill outrages has been in progress. Tonight 104 prisoners are under guard in the barn that has been turned into a jail for their detention.
Among them are many ringleaders in the organization. More of the chief dynamiters, however, have escaped,
and are now getting out of the country as best they may. Their arrest is a matter of time. They will not escape.
The State will go bankrupt, if necessary, in order to secure their conviction.

By 10 o'clock this morning the work of drawing the formal complaints against the more notorious strikers had been completed. The document was a lengthy one and in it were set down
the names of about fifty suspects. Then the work of making the arrests commenced. As martial law had not at that time been declared, the local possibilities were debated to serve the warrants; but they were not alone in the work. Capt. Batchelor of Company M, Twenty-fourth United States Infantry, put a squad of his colored fighters at the command of the constables and began the hunt.

Up to the head of the gulch marched
the pursuers, and then turning back, they commenced a search of every point where the rioters might be in concealment. Their coming in caused a panic among the strikers. There was a wild scramble among them up the sides of the canyon, but they were not to escape in that way. As they dodged through the brush on the mountain side the constables and their deputies started in pursuit, and in most cases the chase was a short one. The sight of the dusky soldiers' glinting rifles
was generally sufficient to make them meekly surrender.

Lined up two abreast and closely guarded by the soldiers, the captives were marched back down to the camp
at the station in little bunches of twenty or thirty. There they were turned into a vacant lot and kept under guard until about 5 o'clock, when they were transferred into the loft of a near-by barn.

A company of the Fourth Cavalry from Walla Walla arrived here at noon.

The inquest on the dead men has been commenced.

WARDNER, Idaho, April 29.—Armed, masked and desperate, 1000 miners from Canyon Creek poured into the town at noon today on a stolen Northern Pacific train. Three hours later they had left with their mission accomplished. The great Bunker Hill mill, costing $200,000, had been blown into a million pieces by the aid of a ton and a half of dynamite, which the rioters brought with them. Although the mob from Canyon Creek met not the slightest resistance, yet they left here after shooting two of the Bunker Hill men from behind, while with them
they took the body of a fellow rioter whom they themselves had accidentally shot.

Non-union men had been employed by the Bunker Hill Company.

Rally Points.

There is always a chance for misapprehension as to details concerning such large gatherings as the Rally Some fallacies are about now. They stand a good chance of being cleared away in the full discussion today at the Y. M. C. A. at 4:30. Teachers are inquiring where they are to march,
and others want to know about stopping in front of the review stand, etc.
Perhaps the most momentous questions are those which mothers proound as to the safety of their little people. Parents, too, should come around to learn what provisions are to be made in the "break ranks," and where the children are to meet. It is sufficient now to say that the marshal and assistant, with an ample force of sides, will insure that orderly conduct of the exercises which is the pledge of safety.

"Bert" and Bride.

By yesterday's steamer Judge Peterson received a letter from his brother,
"Bert." It stated that the trip up was pleasant and that the mother did not learn of the marriage until after they had reached San Francisco. He expected to leave by the America Maru, which will probably arrive this evening.

"Bert's" statement is borne out by a story which appeared in the Chronicle of May 3. The tale of the marriage is told and "Bert" is the central figure of a complimentary sketch. The exclusive story obtained by the advertiser is made a feature. It also says that the bride goes East with her mother, and that the groom will join them in a few months.

COIN FOR SPAIN

The $20,000,000 Paid By
U. S. to M. Cambon.

Four Treasury Warrants Handed
Over By Secretary Hay—
Cable to Madrid.

WASHINGTON, May 1.—The last move in the negotiations terminating
the war with Spain occurred today,
when Secretary Hay paid to the French Ambassador, M. Cambon, the $20,000-000 provided for by the treaty of peace for the cession of the Philippines. The payment was made in four treasury warrants of $5,000,000 each, and was received by M. Cambon as completely liquidating the obligation of the United States in this connection.
The Ambassador deposited the $20,000-000 in the Riggs National Bank of this city, and the cashing of the warrants is expected to be made later through the City National Bank of New York.
The Spanish Government was notified
by cable of the payment, but nothing will be done as to forwarding the funds to Europe until Spain directs the exact course to be pursued.

The original receipt was handed by Secretary Hay to Frank A. Branagan, the disbursing officer of the Department of State, to be filed away. One copy was given to M. Cambon another will be sent to United States Minister Storer, a third goes to the United States Embassy at Paris and a fourth copy to the auditor of the treasury.

After receiving the $20,000,000 M.
Cambon folded the four warrants and put them in his valise. He and Secretary Hay chatted over the speedy restoration of diplomatic relations between the United States and Spain,
for this payment marked the last step in the negotiations. Mr. Hay desired to know when the Duke d'Arcos would arrive in Washington. M. Cam-bon said he thought the Spanish Minister would come in about two weeks still he was not certain of this, and he said it had been left largely to the Duke's personal convenience.

The form of receipt signed by the Ambassador was as follows:

Received from the Secretary of State of the United States the sum of $20-000,000, in four drafts, upon the assistant treasurer of the United States at New York, numbered 4509, 4510, 4511
and 4512, of date April 29, 1899, each draft being for $5,000,000, the same being in full payment of the obligation of the Government of the United States to the Government of Spain as set forth in Article 3 of the Treaty of Peace between the United States and Spain,
signed at Paris, France, on the 10th day of December, 1898, the ratifications of which were exchanged in the city of Washington on the 11th day of April, 1899, the payment being provided by the act of Congress, approved March 2, 1899, entitled an act making an appropriation to carry out the obligation of the treaty between the United States and Spain, concluded December 10, 1898.

JULIUS CAMBON.

Department of State, May 1, 1899.

On Sunday, the 28th inst., the Knights of Pythias of this city will institute here Pythian Memorial Day.
There will be a march to the Nunsen
cemetery and services in the Pythian
Hall on Fort street.

YET UNDER FIRE

Filipinos Parley for Peace, But Fighting Is Still On.

AGUINALDO IS NOW WEARY

Sends Emissaries to General Otis—
"Unconditional Surrender" the Demand—Rebels Killed.

MANILA, May 4.—San Tomas was occupied by Gen. MacArthur this morning after fierce resistance, and Hale's Brigade is now pressing on toward San Fernando. The rebels made their longest stand at the bridge south of the city and only gave up after a fierce encounter. They fought their way through the town, which they fired as they fell back.

Col. Summers has left Lawton's column with his brigade and is marching to Maasin. The move is designed to pocket part of the rebels. The losses are not yet known. It is the intention to press on to San Fernando. The troops are fresh and will be kept moving.

MANILA, May 3.—At Balibog last evening there was a running fight
during which one soldier was killed and three were wounded. The rebels scattered before Gen. Lawton and Gen.
Hale. Yesterday while Capt. Wheeler, with a detachment of the Fourth Cavalry, was covering Gen. Hale's advance, he discovered a large body of rebels at Pullian. The cavalry opened fire, but there was no response. Thinking that the rebels wanted to surrender, Lieut. Bell went forward to parley with them. The Filipinos replied that they did not wish to surrender, but that they had been ordered to refrain from fighting during the negotiations.
They asked what Lieut. Bell wanted, and in response were given half an hour in which to retire, which they improved.

A Spanish prisoner who escaped into the American lines reports that after
Gen. Hale's advance on Quingan 200 Filipinos were buried, thirty-five in one trench and twenty-seven in another.
This is the largest number of rebels
that have been killed in any engagement for several months.

MANILA, May 3, 8 p. m.—The Filipino envoys, Maj. Manuel Argueles and Lieut. Jose Bernal, have abandoned the pretense under which they came to Gen. Otis, that they represented Gen. Antonio Luna, and today they announced that they came as representatives of Aguinaldo himself. The two emissaries used all their wiles to secure a reply from Gen. Otis to the letter from Senor Mabini, Aguinaldo's prime minister and minister of foreign affairs in the dictator's cabinet, which they presented to Gen. Otis yesterday.
but Gen. Otis refused to make any reply on the ground that to do so would be equivalent to a recognition of the so-called government of the Filipinos.
Argueles said that Aguinaldo knew he would be overpowered in time, but that he would be able to continue the fight for months and that he would do so unless he was given what Maj. Argueles termed peace with dignity.

Mr. Schurman, the president of the United States Philippine Commission, expresses the opinion that the interviews accorded by Gen. Otis to the Filipino representatives will have a good moral effect as tending to convince Aguinaldo's representatives that the American authorities mean to give the Filipinos a good government, and not one of the Spanish sort. Certainly it has had a civilizing influence in inducing them to observe the amenities of war and consent to the Americans furnishing food for American prisoners.

The exodus of natives from the insurgent lines continues.

By filling in the roads where it was required, putting canoes on the rivers
and plowing fields south of Malolos,
the army is in a fine position for the expected decisive blow. Gen. Mac-Arthur has moved his headquarters to San Vicente, across the Rio Grande.
Gen. Wheaton's brigade has advanced beyond Alapit. Gen. Hale has returned to co-operate with Gen. Lawton.

KITCHENER MEN KILLED

CAIRO, Egypt, May 3.—Ibrahim AH, whom Gen. Lord Kitchener sent upon a mission to Ibrahim's uncle, the Sultan of Darfur, has returned to Cairo.
Ibrahim AH found upon reaching Darfur that his uncle had been dethroned by AH Dinar.
The latter, on the appearance of Ibrahim, turned out with his troops and routed the escort of Gen. Lord Kitchener's envoy, numbering 150 men, of whom 120 were killed.

ANDRE

NEW YORK, April 20.—A cable from London says: "The latest Andre story comes from Copenhagen, where it is reported that a bottle containing a note from the explorer was found in the polar ice driven ashore at Resolute Bay."

THE BIG S. S. DAY

Five National Flags to be in Saturday's Column.

GRAND PARADE OF CHILDREN

Variety Nationalities to Appear—Many Schools. Review—Decorations—Rally Song.

Five national flags will be carried in the procession on Saturday symbolizing the possibility of inter-national union on at least one great issue. Only the banners of the Sunday schools will be assembled in the large banner rack, to be built on the corner of the Kawaiahao church. There should be from 25 to 30 of these.

Sunday schools are compound organizations. Not only are there the departments—adult, intermediate and primary—but the Hawaiian Sunday schools are made up of Apanas. Each of these is likely to have its special banner.

Old Kawaiahao is made up of Puakalani, Moiliili, Maunaloa, Waikiki, Pauao and others, besides the Kawaiahao Seminary. There are bound to be a goodly number representing this church, over 300 perhaps, and when they sing there will be no uncertain sound.

Kaumakapili is as truly a composite. Maunaloa (in which Mrs. Waterhouse is the leading spirit) has prepared a beautiful banner and will come in force. Kapunukolo, Holoakahana and Pauao swell the number to over 300 in all probability.

The Portuguese have a beautiful and significant emblem in addition to the banners they will carry. From the main school, Kakaako and Punahou, they expect to muster over 200.

The matter of numbers is by no means the essential element in the success of the day, but it is quite certain that the Sunday school scholars will be there in numbers and thus the influence of a notable spectacle and inspiring music will be more widespread.

The element of refreshments can be safely counted out, however deeply rooted it has always been considered to be in Honolulu functions. There was, to be sure, some suggestion of refreshments at the close of the exercises, but it met with almost universal disapprobation. Through a mistake an announcement was made that the Central Union people would be "refreshed" at the home of Miss Hopper after the exercises. We are authorized to say that the "loaves and fishes" clause in the invitation was not at all necessary, and that the C. U. people will be 300 strong without a suggestion of soda water.

The little Japanese church of the Hawaiian Board management will appear and from them there may be expected some of the fascinating Japanese music. The Methodist Japanese will probably unite with the main church.

Mr. P. H. Dodge and Mr. Wilnot have been giving a great deal of time to the details of decoration. The whole line of march will supply ample field for lessons to be worked into suggestive texts, framed in bright colors.

It is expected that work of adorning the three stands will be turned over to committees of ladies from the various organizations. They always know where to get green materials and never have to look far to supply taste in producing effects.

About forty invitations have been given to people expected to review on that day. All, with the exception of the Cabinet are representatives of religious bodies in the city. There is a most desirable position, as each school sings to them, while the whole line waits.

It is right in the center of the square that the public is likely to congregate in the greatest numbers, for the review stand is to be here. In front of the opera house and the individual singing will be continuous for nearly an hour at this point before ever the exercises begin. There is ample room here too, while it is to be regretted that but comparatively few besides the pupils of the schools can get near to the speakers' stand in Kawaiahao church yard. Hence the exercises at Kawaiahao must be largely for the Sunday schools alone while the crowds of spectators can be accommodated in the square.

Promptly at 3.30 spectators may expect to hear the Kamehameha Cadet band and the neat soldierly battalion of the students will form an appropriate head to the line. The three schools' Manual, Preparatory and Girls' School make a total of 230 pupils. The Manual and Preparatory will be led in their singing by their band. The girls sing separately and later in the column. People would go a great way to hear them.

The Christian church has been preparing a new song and there will be in the neighborhood of 150 to sing it, no doubt. This is about the number of the Methodist body. Besides their own peculiar banner they will both carry the American flag.

The shields which are to surmount the decorations of the telephone poles along the way will represent the work of many hands. Mr. Wilnot, after cutting and covering them sent them by two and three out into the hands of different ones to decorate and supply with appropriate mottoes and devices. Chinese and Japanese characters will look down from some heights, while Portuguese, Hawaiian and English words will catch the eye of those capable of drawing meaning from them.

Capt. Berger has kindly offered the services of the Government band, which will cheer the homeward steps of children and grown-ups after the programme. Owing to the nature of the exercises and the continuous singing before the program, there seemed no place for band music till after the breaking-up of the gathering.

The Palama Chapel will give a good account of itself, notwithstanding some distracting circumstances, in the shape of an absent superintendent, sickness and the moving of the Government school away from the neighborhood. It is impossible to say how many will be there on the day.

The Chinese contingent is sure of a splendid nucleus in the shape of the boys from the boarding school in charge of Mr. F. W. Damon. Should they appear in their school uniform they will present a fine military appearance. It is a matter of considerable regret that the Chinese do not care to sing their own peculiar music where there is any chance of their being the object of ridicule, or even of appearing strange. At all events they will sing, and their singing will be hearty and an honor to the day.

Mr. H. E. Coleman will be the marshal of the day. He will be assisted by aides from each of the schools. Any special requests concerning the time or form of stopping in front of the review stand, should be made to him.

Mr. W. A. Bowen will be the chairman of the day and Mr. D. L. Naone will lead the singing of the two general songs, and will be assisted by four cornets.

Information concerning any doubtful point in reference to the entire subject of the rally may be obtained on Friday afternoon at the Y. M. C. A. The meeting of the S. S. Union at 4.30 will be given over to the clearing up of any doubts on the matter, and to the issuing of new information. It is evidently of great importance to the various Sunday schools that the teachers come to this meeting.

This is the general rally song composed for the occasion by P. H. Dodge. The music is Hawaii Ponoi:

Hawaii's land is fair,
Rich are the gifts we share.
This is our earnest prayer
O Lord of Light,
That as a noble band
We may join heart and hand
Till all Hawaii's land
Stands for the right.

Though all our days be bright
What is our earthly might?
There is no other light
Like that above.
Lord of the isles and sea,
Grant us the victory
That every heart may be Strong in Thy love.

Joyously let us sing,
Loud may the echoes ring,
Homeland and everything
For Christ we claim.
In God is our success,
Lord all thy people bless,
Clothe us with righteousness Worthy Thy name.

Station House Addition.

Work on the addition to the police station is well under way. A portion of the present receiving station will be torn down and replaced by a two-story building. An additional story will be added to the portion of the receiving station adjoining the police station proper. This will make a uniform two-story structure. There will be direct communication between the addition and the courtroom, which will be an advantage. The stables will be on the side of what was formerly used for that purpose. In addition to stalls for the horses of the mounted police there will be a space reserved for the patrol wagon, which will then be used night and day. Contractor Thomas, who has charge of the work, expects to have the building completed in a few weeks.

Hawaiian Far From Home

The late Judge Herman Widemann was a much traveled man, was a close observer and knew how to travel. Knowing how to travel is an art. It means getting the most out of the opportunities afforded. One of the most interesting of Judge Widemann's hundreds of anecdotes was this: At a town in Germany, quite off the beaten path, the Judge was accosted in Hawaiian, with which language he had been familiar for many years. He replied to the German in the language of the islands and quite a conversation was had in the tongue of this land. The Judge was asked about affairs in general here and about a number of the prominent citizens and places of this country. Finally a conversation was opened in the German language. The resident of the Empire then said that he had never been in the islands, in fact had never been beyond the bounds of his town, but had studied Hawaii and Hawaiians for many years. He had never before had a chance to test his knowledge of the language of the group. However, he spoke it quite well according to Judge Widemann.

City of Columbia

The City of Columbia is being subjected to a thorough overhauling and repairing. She is at present on the marine railway. The leak has been disclosed and can be easily mended. The broken propeller blade is to be repaired and the other blades will be cleaned and painted. The machinery is also being inspected.

An effort is to be made to have the name of Herring, who killed Huntman, in the list of pardons for July 4. Herring was in 1896 voted a commutation of a year and his term will expire in 1900.

A SOLDIER LOST

Passenger of the Transport Senator Fell to His Death.

MAKING FOR THE PILOT BOAT

Body Disappeared in the Channel at Once—Search—Ready Native—A Fight—Down 20 Feet.

(From Wednesday's Daily.)

A DROWNING.

A soldier attempting to board the pilot boat attached to the transport Senator while going through the channel yesterday lost his hold and fell into the water and was drowned.

The man was under the influence of liquor and evidently had an idea of deserting by sliding down the towing line which was made fast forward starboard amidships of the Senator, allowing the pilot boat to swing somewhat astern. Half way down he relaxed his grip and sank to rise no more.

Immediately upon the man dropping into the water the pilot boat cast off the line and made for the place where he had disappeared. One of the boat's crew threw off his clothing for a plunge after the man.

It was impossible owing to the speed of the vessel to locate the exact spot and after a search, the pilot boat returned to the transport, which had slowed up.

It is thought the unfortunate man was struck by the propeller and stunned.

On board the Senator it was reported that the missing man was of unsound mind and had threatened to commit suicide by the route which many brought him to his end.

For a time the excitement on the transport amounted to almost a panic. There was a tremendous chorus of "man overboard" and the soldiers rushed in a body to the ship's side. Men aboard stood ready to jump to the rescue as well as to throw life preservers and pieces of wood. No one seemed to know the name of the man or to what company of the Thirteenth he belonged. Some said he was a veteran of the Cuban campaign, others remarked that he was a recruit who had enlisted while drunk.

It is expected that the military people here or the local authorities will undertake to recover the body of the drowned man.

A SAILOR'S FALL.

At the noon hour yesterday while some of the crew of the steamer Helena, at the foot of Allen street, were ascending from the hold to the deck for dinner by catching the tackle used in hoisting sugar, one of the sailors lost his grip when nearly at the hatch-combings and dropped some twenty feet to the bottom of the hold below. He was bruised about the arm and right side and was taken to the hospital immediately for treatment.

TROUBLE OVER DESERTERS.

Two would-be deserters off the transport Ohio were the cause of a good beating given one of the sailors of the Fort George at Brewer's wharf last evening. Shortly after 4 o'clock two soldiers off the Ohio, in company with some of the crew of the Fort George, came on board the latter vessel, intending to stow away until after the sailing of the transport for Manila. Shortly after a guard appeared at the wharf in search for the missing men and after some time found them. One of the sailors on board, a new-found friend of the soldiers, demurred and, proving hellebrand was given satisfaction by the first mate who came down on the wharf where the fight was arranged according to Queensbury rules. In the meantime the deserting soldiers were taken off to the Ohio under close guard and placed in close confinement on board.

Queen's Birthday

It is very likely that the Executive Building will be the scene of the grand dancing party to be held by the British residents on the evening of the 24th inst., in honor of the birthday of Her Majesty Queen Victoria. The former throne room is considered the best place for such a function as is proposed and several prominent members of the Government are in favor of tendering the use of the building for the evening to the committee of the British organization. The matter will probably be decided today. If the Executive building is secured it will be handsomely decorated for the occasion.

A RELIC OF THE WAR

Many old soldiers now feel the effects of the hard service they endured during the war. Mr. Geo. S. Anderson of Roseville, York county, Penn., who saw the hardest kind of service at the front, is now frequently troubled with rheumatism. "I had a severe attack lately," he says, "and procured a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. It did so much good that I would like to know what you would charge me for one dozen bottles." Mr. Anderson wanted it both for his own use and to supply it to his friends and neighbors, as every family should have a bottle of it in their home, not only for rheumatism, but lame back, sprains, swellings, cuts, bruises and burns, for which it is unequalled. A KAHUNA CASE

Treatment of the Sick, a Death and an Arrest.

A CORONER'S INQUEST HELD

Lillioe (w) Accused Under the Law. Witnesses Tell of the Ministrations of Oiven.

(From Wednesday's Daily.)

A real case of kahuna practice has been brought to light in this city. A native woman, taken with severe illness, still clinging to the old traditions, sought the service of one of her own race who claimed to have secret powers over life and death. The ti and awa leaves were chewed and mixed with brandy and administered to the patient. The magic solution which chased away the "spirits" was sprinkled about the room. But all availed nothing, and the woman died.

Yesterday morning a small native boy appeared at Deputy Marshal Chillingworth's office and requested a burial permit. No physician's certificate, nor cause of death was forthcoming, and the deputy marshal proceeded to investigate the case. He did not wish to secure any permit without knowing how death was brought about.

After diligent inquiry the deputy marshal found that Koali, a native woman living on Beretania street, near Mauakea, had died the day before. No physician had been called. Instead, faith had been pinned in a Lillioe, a woman kahuna of some local fame among her people. All the incantations and ceremonies were observed. But the patient died.

There is a section of the penal code which says that any person who shall attempt the cure of another by practice of sorcery, witchcraft or any other superstitious or deceitful methods shall upon conviction be liable to punishment. Acting under this Deputy Marshal Chillingworth caused the arrest of Lillioe and summoned a coroner's jury, which returned the following verdict:

"The said Koali (w) came to her death at Honolulu, Island of Oahu, on the 8th day of May, A. D. 1899, from lack of care and proper medical attendance the same being the result of the advice and representations of one Lillioe (w), a person representing herself as able to cure and restore to health the deceased."

The following witnesses were examined and testimony adduced:

Mrs. A. E. Scott—Deceased was attended by Lillioe. I saw Lillioe attending deceased on April 29. On that day she instructed deceased's husband to buy some awa root and a bottle of brandy. The articles were furnished by the husband of the deceased and that day Lillioe began operations.

After the articles were laid before her she offered a prayer. After that she chewed some of the awa root and ti leaf and then ejected the mixture into a bowl from out of her mouth and gave it to deceased to drink. Then Lillioe poured some brandy into the mixture of the awa root and drank it herself. After giving some of the mixture to the husband and child of deceased she went away, taking the remaining awa root and brandy to her home. I saw deceased Friday and she said she was feeling about the same. She died Monday at 1:30 p. m. The understanding between the husband of deceased and Lillioe was that in case Koali died said Lillioe would replace the awa root, brandy and money, but if Koali recovered, these articles were to be the property of Lillioe. If the husband chose to give anything in addition out of the goodness of his heart, it would be accepted.

A. E. Scott—On Saturday Lillioe asked husband of deceased to get awa root, liquor and money, for without them she could not work. When the articles were placed before her she prayed and asked "George" (the husband) to chew the awa root. She offered a little of the root to the people in the room, but drank the most herself. Monday she ordered a chicken cooked, but before this was done said Koali died.

George Lawoeki—I am the husband of Koali. She is now dead. She was doctored by Lillioe. Medicine was administered by the latter, being a mixture of awa root, ti leaf and brandy. The patient drank some. This was done Saturday night, April 29. After having prayed she went away, taking with her the remainder of the brandy and awa root. On Wednesday she came again and sprinkled a solution of water and salt about the room in order to chase away the devils.

The jury was composed of Kusana, Keola, Kaoma, Kaikulani, Kalola and Nabolowaa. The hearing of Lillioe will come up before Judge Wilcox today. The amount of money furnished was one dollar.

A "Fine Old Vet."

Gen. W. T. Bennett, who goes to the Philippines to represent the American National Red Cross Society there indefinitely, made many friends here during the stay of the transport Senator. The General is a veteran of the Civil war in the United States, and as he was in the field during the whole time of that struggle, is quite familiar with military life in all its phases. The General said yesterday that he believed every effort had been made to provide comfort in every way for the men at the front. So far as he was able to learn, the men in the Philippines had suffered much less than those who went through the Cuban campaign, excepting that the boys under Gen. Otis had done more than their share of continuous duty on the firing lines. Gen. Bennett's work will be to direct the operations of the American National Red Cross in all of the Philippines. The General is a handsome, affable man, bound to make friends wherever he may go.

BY MR. HERBERT

Article in Interest of Bureau of Agriculture.

An Exposition of the Opportunities Here for Small Farmer—Many Little Products.

(By Allen Herbert) in the interest of the Hawaiian Board of Agriculture and Forestry.)

It is of importance to these Islands that the truth should be told regarding the actual conditions here, and the opportunities for a desirable white immigration of small farmers for the production of diversified agriculture. Diversified agriculture and horticulture is certainly a following that we all feel a deep interest in, and upon it the future of these Islands depends; but this interest needs organization and co-operation as well as our sugar interest.

We have on several occasions, since our connection with this Bureau, called to the attention of our people, that there are in this country many other avenues for the safe investment of capital besides sugar, if proper encouragement be given. What we need is that our wealthy citizens should take the initiative in the organization of these industries that will tend to extend our agricultural possibilities, to widen inquiry into the resources of our Islands and bring these to the notice of home seekers.

Fig Culture—The fig tree will bear two crops a year. Insects and blight do not trouble it. For the fiscal year ending June 30th, 1898, there was imported into the United States 11,900,700 pounds of figs. These figs were sold at auction in New York. The prices realized are between 9 and 28 cents per pound. This amount could be produced in Hawaii under proper conditions.

Silk Industry—The wonderful production of the silk industry in the United States and the value of the production of silk fabrics reached $110,000,000 in 1898. The silk textile industry of the United States greatly exceeds that of France. The natural food of the silk worm is the white mulberry, but it will feed on the leaves of other plants we have, as well as on the lettuce. This is the land for the silk worm.

Tobacco—Hawaii has without doubt thousands of acres of land adapted to the cultivation of tobacco. Our warm climate is also peculiarly well adapted to the curing of the Havana seed leaf. All we need is proper instruction in the cultivation of the plant to maturity.

All textile plants, such as Agave, Tita, Pineapple, cotton, etc., grow well, and the manufacturing of sacking might be made a great industry in Hawaii.

Among the most important of the fibers, is the benegen or sisal hemp. It is known as benegen in Mexico. The export from there is 90,000,000 pounds annually, average value $8,500,000. The United States takes four-fifths of that amount.

One of our most profitable but much neglected industries is dairying and its new methods.

These are only a few products. Others will suggest themselves, even fruits and vegetables might well be introduced into our Islands with profit. Our Government should encourage the small farmers to experiment with new things and something should be done at once.

Sixty-six Challenges.

Five of the Japanese charged with committing murder in the course of the riot at the Kahuku plantation are now on trial. They have the right, even while being heard together, of twelve challenges without explanation for each man, or sixty for the quintette.

Only a few of these challenges have been used so far. The Government has but six peremptory challenges altogether, just the same as if a single individual were on trial. But two of these have been used. It is believed by many attorneys that an error was made in drawing up or compiling the law, as they say it could not have been the intention to restrict the State challenges in any instance.

TRADE IN SLAVES

Chamber's Gives Some History on the Traffic.

WAS A PAYING INDUSTRY

Liverpool Enterprise—Unenviable Distinction—Details—Prices that Ruled.

There is no question, however, that the other branch of Liverpool's enterprise, the slave trade, was a paying industry, especially in its later years. "For a period of seventy-seven years," says Mr. Williams, "the Liverpool merchants carried on the trade with a characteristic vigor and ability that outdistanced every competitor, and won for Liverpool the unenviable distinction of being the chief slaving town of the Old World." The chief cause of this predominance was that the Liverpool merchants, by what might be called a chicanery policy in the fitting out of their slavers, in the wages of their seamen, and in various other directions, were enabled to dispose of their "prime negroes" at from $4 to $5 per head less than the merchants of Bristol and London. In 1752 Liverpool possessed eighty-seven slavers, with a carrying capacity of 25,000 negroes; but "the number shipped, if not actually delivered, 'in good order and condition,' was probably much higher, as it was then customary to overload, with the most frightful results."

But the traffic was not confined to the colonies and foreign parts. Slaves were imported into and sold in England itself. In the newspapers of the period were many advertisements of sales of negroes by auction. A Liverpool paper in 1766 announced: "To be sold at the Exchange Coffee-House in Water Street, this day, the 12th instant September, at 1 o'clock precisely, eleven negroes, imported per the Angola." Slavery in England was abolished in 1772 by the famous dictum of Lord Mansfield in the case of the negro Somerset, who had deserted from his master's service: "As soon as a slave sets foot on the soil of the British Islands he becomes free."

The slave trade itself died hard. The movement for abolition began to take form about 1770, and in 1783 the Abolition Society had its foot in Liverpool. Naturally those interested in the traffic were up in arms, and the contest grew fierce. As the power of the abolitionists grew, the resentment against them became more bitter, until their lives were not safe in the streets of Liverpool. None was more active in resisting the movement than the corporation, who considered the vital interests of their city at stake. They granted annuities, presented the freedom of the city, and did other honors to the champions of their cause. In October, 1793, the Recorder, with a committee of the Council, attended at St. James' Palace, and presented H. R. H. the Duke of Clarence (afterwards William IV) with the freedom of the borough, "in grateful sense of his active and able exertions in Parliament" on behalf of the slave trade.

The slave trade was declared illegal in 1807, and it was thought that Liverpool was ruined. "The whole community were terror-stricken. The docks were to become fish-ponds, the warehouses to moulder into ruins, grass was to grow on the local Rialto, the streets were to be ploughed up, and Liverpool's glorious merchant navy... was to dwindle into a fishing vessel or two."

As has already been hinted, the emoluments of the traffic were large. Mr. Williams calculates that during the eleven years, 1783-93, the net amount remitted from the West Indies to the Liverpool merchants for 805,737 slaves was $12,294,116, or an average of $15.17,647 per year. To give an instance of individual profit, one firm, importing 2850 slaves, received a net profit in one year of $26,849. The former net sum does not take account of the prime cost of the slaves on the African coast. In the later years of the traffic a slave sold for about—after deducting factor's commission (5 per cent) and other expenses—$40 10s; the prime cost was $27 5s, freight and maintenance, £3 15s—making £31 which left a profit of £9 10s. Certainly a profit of about 30 per cent was a handsome one.

A bill of lading for slaves was a curiosity in its way. The following extract is from one dated 1st February, 1766: "Shipped, by the Grace of God, in good order and well conditioned, by James, in and upon the good ship called the Mary Borough, whereof its master, under God for this present voyage, Capt. David Morton, and now riding at anchor at the Barr of Senegal, and by God's grace bound for Georgetown, in South Carolina, to say, twenty-four prime slaves, six prime women slaves," etc. It ends with the pious wish that "God send the good ship to her desired port in safety. Amen." However impious it may appear to us to associate the name of God with the iniquitous traffic, still it was looked upon by many as a divine institution, directly sanctioned by the Bible. The famous slave-trading captain, John Newton, afterwards to be the Rev. John Newton, of Olney, hymn-writer and friend of Cowper, did by no means see it to be his duty to change his profession immediately after his conversion, though he ultimately became an abolitionist; he carried on slave-trading for years after he was a devout Christian, giving thanks in the Liverpool churches for the success

BRIGADIER GENERAL HARRISON GRAY OTIS. "The pen is mightier than the sword," said Bulwer-Lytton, but Brigadier General Harrison Gray Otis seems to do well with both these mighty weapons. He commands a brigade in the Philippines and owns a paper in Los Angeles, Cal. A Manila correspondent says: "When not fighting General Otis is writing dispatches for his paper."

HAWAIIAN CABLE.

Argument in Behalf Made By a New York Paper.

(New York Journal of Commerce.)

The Hawaiian cable has become a matter of necessity. While our relations with Hawaii were purely commercial the only use of a cable was a commercial use, and if that was not sufficient to justify the laying of it there was no reason why the national revenues should be devoted to the purpose. But now that Hawaii belongs to the United States we must, for political as well as commercial reasons, maintain close communication with it, and if the commercial uses of the cable are not enough to pay for it, it must depend on its political value for the means of its construction. The Government maintains postal communication with Arizona and Idaho for political as well as commercial reasons, and regardless of the paucity of returns. Where commerce has not constructed routes that the Government can utilize as post routes the Government creates the means of communication. The same principle will compel it to provide in the near future for telegraphic communication with Hawaii and the Philippines.

SEAMAN'S CLUB.

Testimonial From Men of the Invermark.

The Seaman's Club has had a neat souvenir prepared in honor of the opening of the institution. The ship Invermark, whose sailors were the first to avail themselves of the club, is photographed under full sail. Underneath is the following testimonial:

Honolulu, H. I., April 17, 1899.

To Whom It May Concern: During the stay of the British ship Invermark in the port of Honolulu, we, the undersigned, visited the Seaman's Club very often, and were entertained in the most hospitable manner, and we cheerfully recommend the institution to all seafaring men who may desire a comfortable resort to spend their evenings.

Signed: James Smith, master; F. C. Stockel, first mate; Andrew Nicol, second mate; Alexander Howard Ross, Arthur Steward, Robert Sewerby, Guy Littford, George Buchanan, Arthur Dean, apprentices; James McArthur, Andrew Sangster, Edward Waterman, Walter Timmis, Charles Thomson, Charles Cook, George Madden, crew.

The Invermark will be remembered as the vessel which gained the reputation of being the cleanest ship that ever came into this port. Her master, Captain Philip, died while here from a stroke of paralysis.

The Seaman's Club is thriving and has proved a worthy institution. Every evening between seventy-five and one hundred men may be seen there amusing themselves in various ways.

Tree Planting.

The Commissioners of Agriculture met yesterday and discussed the planting of trees along the new beach road. Secretary David Haughton informed the meeting that 245 trees had been planted, and that over 600 more are necessary for carrying out the plans. The question of protecting the trees was taken under advisement.

WHOOPIING COUGH

I had a little boy who was nearly dead from an attack of whooping cough. My neighbors recommended Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I did not think that any medicine would help him, but after giving him a few doses of that remedy I noticed an improvement, and one bottle cured him entirely. It is the best cough medicine I ever had in the house.—J. L. Moore, South Burgetstown, Pa. For sale by Benson, Smith & Co., Ltd., wholesale agents for H. I., and all druggists and dealers.

HONOLULU ALIVE.

When you know a good thing tell it. It will not lessen its goodness. But will do good to others. If you've been cured, tell it. There's more misery just like it. Waiting to find out how. There are lots of lame backs in Honolulu. It's a busy place and people must work.

There's kidney trouble to a large extent.

Ever notice how many people over 40 complain?

Seven out of ten say colds affect their kidneys.

The kidneys are the cause, not the colds. Keep them in shape by all means.

You can do it easily and pleasantly. No nauseating disturbances.

No effect except on the kidneys.

But that effect is quick and permanent.

Doan's Backache Kidney Pills do perfect work.

"Honolulu is full of their praises."

Mr. H. G. Crabbe, of Nuuanu street, this city, formerly a merchant and clerk, is now a collector. He writes: "My age is 69 years and I am blessed with children and grandchildren. For about two years I have been troubled with a severe pain in the back. A short time ago I procured some of Doan's Backache Kidney Pills at Hollister & Co., drug store, and found great relief through using them. I keep some of the pills by me as a safeguard against attacks of my old complaint, which I need not fear so long as I have a remedy like Doan's Backache Kidney Pills to combat them."

For sale by all dealers; price 50 cents per box, six boxes $2.50. Mailed by the Hollister Drug Co., Ltd., Honolulu, wholesale agents for the Hawaiian Islands.

Loebenstein is Right.

The law department of the Government has decided that Representative Loebenstein is right and that the Board of Registration for the district of Hilo is in error. This is in the issue of the refusal of Mr. Loebenstein to subscribe to a new oath before the Board of Registration, he having qualified as a voter already before annexation, or before the Stars and Stripes went up there. The appeal of Mr. Loebenstein from the Hilo Registration Board created somewhat of a sensation on Hawaii last week. It is now made plain that the new oath has a specific use or significance.

Sewer Construction.

Engineer Rudolph Hering reports that business in connection with the sewerage system is progressing satisfactorily. Tenders for doing the work have been asked for. If the bids are not too high the contract will be awarded by the 1st of June. In the event of the bids being too high the Government will perform the work with day labor. Mr. Hering leaves by the Australia next week, leaving Mr. Edwards in charge.

Out of Court.

The matter of Young Hee vs. Gear, Lansing & Co. has been settled out of court. The defendants are to keep the property. The sum of $32,000 was paid for the place, together with assuming a mortgage for $18,000. This is a ranch property that may be exploited as a plantation.

THE SLAVE TRADE.

A reader asks the Advertiser to verify the statement made in its editorial columns that the slave trade was "kept up in a small way, until the opening of the Civil war."

It was an open secret up to the time of the Civil war that slaves were secretly imported in limited numbers into the Southern States from Cuba. An open attempt made in 1855 to bring a cargo of them was defeated by the Federal authorities. But the high prices of slaves stimulated the dealers in the States to obtain slaves from Cuba and other West Indian islands.

The only man convicted in the United States of bringing negroes from Africa was one Gordon, a citizen of Mexico. He was executed in the Tombs, New York city, in 1861. The writer of this attended his trial and execution. On the trial it was said by several witnesses who had served on Gordon's vessel while engaged in the traffic, that it was well understood in the trade that negroes were taken to the Southern States, after being landed on one of the Spanish islands. But the traffic was not large. The sentiment of the intelligent and conservative class was not in favor of it. The cotton planters, who demanded cheap labor, were to a limited extent, in favor of it. But as this traffic was forbidden by the Constitution and laws, and the slave trade was declared to be a crime against the world, they did not seriously attempt to encourage it.

Gordon's case developed the fact that there was little righteous indignation at the North against this slave traffic. Gordon had been arrested in 1858, during Buchanan's administration, and charged with slave trading. The evidence before the United States Commissioner was, that thirty-five blacks had been suffocated in the hold of Gordon's vessel and had been thrown overboard. Yet Gordon was allowed to go out on a bail bond of five thousand dollars, and it was generally believed that he would never be tried. He dined at Delmonico's famous restaurant, in New York, every day, and the writer saw a man who has since become a prominent Republican and held a very conspicuous position during the Spanish troubles, dining with him on one occasion.

When Mr. Lincoln became President, the new Republican District Attorney re-arrested Gordon, and secured his conviction and execution.

Although the story of his crimes and the suffocation of the blacks was published in the journals, it created no sensation whatever. Neither pulpit or press, or individual denounced the crime, excepting Garrison's anti-slavery Standard, which was not generally read. The conscience of the North was "drugged with cotton," as Wendell Phillips put it. One of the rich merchants, of Puritan ancestry, a pillar in the church, declared that Gordon had been too severely dealt with. But the war was on, and out of it came the emancipation of thought.

IMMIGRATION IN CALIFORNIA

Mr. C. P. Huntington at a dinner lately given in San Francisco in his honor, made a speech which contains some excellent points, a part of which are republished in another column. Mr. Huntington thinks directly to the point, as it is quite natural for a man to do who deals with immense interests and deals with them with a very clear brain.

As a Californian, he talks very plainly to his fellow citizens, but not in a way to please the boomers. He alludes to the intention of Russia to absorb Finland, which will force a large emigration of the Finns. "These," he says, "ought to find in California a beneficial harbor of refuge," because it is a State that can easily support 15,000,000 of inhabitants. But he says, "What have we to offer them? Land? Yes, but can we give them what they will need at a price at which they can afford to acquire it? That is the question in California we are concerned with the problems of great ranches, the owners of which have been unwilling to divide them up. These people need small farms. What California needs today is more people."

The State of California has been lately "afflicted" with drought. But for fifteen years it has been most grievously "afflicted" with boom disease and the city of San Francisco has suffered so severely from it that her prosperity seems to be declining. The disease produces extremely exaggerated ideas of values, so that the poor and industrious immigrant refuses to enter the State and pay these prices for land. Every year thousands of farmers are prevented from developing the agricultural resources of the State for this reason.

The owners of the large ranches are gradually dividing them up into smaller parcels and selling them only under the pressure of the assessment laws, but the division is made so gradually that the State, as Mr. Huntington says, suffers for want of people.

If this railroad king should visit these islands, and see that the poor and industrious immigrant could not find hardly an acre of land for sale on these islands, excepting in a few and remote spots, at a price which he can afford to pay, he would indulge in some pointed remarks if called upon to make a speech. He would say without hesitation that the difficulties which retard immigration to California increase fivefold in retarding immigration here.

But even these difficulties are not insurmountable, either in the State of California or in these islands. When the generation of crazy boomers in California, who daily live in the expectation that "next year prices will go up" are dead, and the great ranches are divided by the force of taxation, that State will find a rapid increase in her population.

When the great ranches and sugar interests here open their eyes for once, and read that in the history of all European and American emigration, excepting for political reasons, the one prominent idea that inspires the emigrant is that of owning a home, and they have the sense and wisdom to build their interests upon the sure, the tranquil, the intelligent labor of men who own the soil, they will make perpetual the prosperity of these islands. And if these interests refuse to create such a condition they will find themselves, in due course of time, the miserable slaves of the Labor Unions, and our insular position will aggravate the friction it will cause.

The sugar men must not forget that the geographical position of Hawaii, lying close to the vast resources of cheap Oriental labor, has for twenty years, given her a supreme advantage. On the other hand, if that labor supply is cut off, her geographical position, remote from the labor supplying countries of the West, becomes a supreme disadvantage.

The present time is, in many respects, the most critical in the industrial development of the islands.

HERBERT'S SUGGESTION.

Mr. Allan Herbert makes some admirable suggestions for the promotion of diversified industries, but he errs in the wilderness and no one hears his voice. Capital wants dividends and ease. Poverty wants money for the daily bread. Organizing new industries means slow, patient, and, for a while, profitless work.

Mr. Herbert is not one who would knowingly advocate unprofitable industries, but in suggesting the development of the tobacco industry, it is probable that he has fallen into error.

A few experiments made under scientific supervision, and costing a trifle would have settled several years ago the possibilities of the tobacco industry. No skillful tobacco raiser and scientific expert has ever made experiments here which alone will settle the question of its value. The only information there is on the subject is unsatisfactory and inconclusive. In 1894 the editor of this paper made an effort to secure the services of the United States Government expert who was in charge of the experimental station in Lake City, Florida. He had been remarkably successful in introducing the cultivation of the Sumatra tobacco in that State, and was willing to make the needed experiments here. But the only reply to the proposition was virtually, "Sugar is good enough for us." So the successful cultivation of tobacco remains an open question.

Regarding the silk industry, it can be made fairly profitable if undertaken in the right way. If a school was opened for the training of the native and Portuguese women in the art of raising the silk worm and a thorough education was given, the industry would do well here. But the labor and the energy, and the persistent effort to organize such a school, though trifling in cost, would be vastly greater than the establishment of an ordinary common school. Where is the missionary who will undertake it?

The trustees of the Kamehameha School for Girls have the best equipment for the purpose, but so far they have done with heroic devotion to the ancient methods of education now discarded by the enterprising educators.

A Moses is wanted in this matter of developing industries one who will lead up his boys, slap the sugar god in the face and move off on new gods. But the climate seems to have a deadly effect on Moses and even if he imported one, with his rod to strike the water of a new industry out of these lava rocks he would probably neglect his business and buy a new stock. The sugar god don't want any other gods about and he will try to strangle any "disfranchised" gods.

Mr. Herbert may try to set up a still. It is hoped that Mr. Herbert will continue to "call attention" to the unexpected may happen.

LABORERS' QUARTERS.

The Rev. M. L. Gordon's remarks on the accommodations furnished to the Japanese laborers, published in the Advertiser of the 8th, were made evidently with the desire to give the least offense to the plantation management. So much so that he fails to present the case as boldly as it should be presented. If he had used the language of a visitor, who, after inspecting some of the Japanese premises, declared that as between a hog pen and some Japanese quarters, the hog pen was preferable, he would have kept well within the truth. A room furnishing only a space of 63 square feet for a family is declared even in cities to be insufficient, unsanitary, and a disgrace to a community which permits it. The failure to make arrangements for the separation of the sexes in the bathing arrangements, which Mr. Gordon claims is "loudly called for in the interests of decency and morality," is simply to write "fraud" across the certificate of Christian civilization which we wave before visitors and insert in the American journals.

The quarters of the plantation laborers have no doubt been improved during the last few years, and on some plantations are, as things go, hardly open to criticism. The managers and agents of such plantations are entitled to warm commendation. But there is just enough of the inhuman treatment of the laborers still existing on some of the plantations as to place the whole system on a black list, and involve the conscientious managers in the disgrace brought upon it by the inhuman managers.

Who, then, is responsible for these disgraceful living conditions of the laborers? What is the law? The Penal Code, Sec 1547, reads as follows:

"It shall be the duty of the Minister of the Interior, with the approval of the Board of Immigration and the Cabinet, from time to time to make and promulgate such rules and regulations and to adopt such measures as may be deemed necessary or proper to promote immigration from abroad, and for the good government, control and PROTECTION of immigrants that may come or be brought into this Republic," etc.

The protection of immigrants is assigned to the Minister of the Interior. His subordinates are responsible to him, but he is responsible to the community. It is his duty to cause regulations to be made which will PROTECT immigrants, and to see that these regulations are enforced.

Since the Republic came into existence, and the present Minister held office there have been no regulations made and published for the protection of immigrants, which specify what the plantations must do for the well being of the laborers. Thousands of laborers have been brought in under the penal contract system, but they have been turned over to the plantations without any specific directions regarding their protection. Honest inspectors have been occasionally sent out to examine the living conditions of the laborers, and they have made their reports and some abuses have been corrected. But obedience to the law and vigilance have been lacking in the head of the Department of the Interior. Otherwise Rev. Mr. Gordon would relate a different story.

The British regulations for the protection of the East India coolies in the West Indies are clear and imperative. "No immigrants are allotted to any estate until the medical inspector has visited the dwelling houses, and made an entry in the book kept for the purpose to the effect that the houses are built in a manner which fulfills the sanitary requirements laid down in the regulations."

It might be reasonably expected that when the Republic came into existence the Minister of the Interior would have made himself familiar with the rules which the British Government adopted after a wide experience, and would have been swift to cause similar rules to be adopted here.

No doubt the Evil One smiles at the laughable farce of the Hawaiian Evangelical Association sending out missionaries to the heathen on the plantations, when our Christian civilization, of which we do not hesitate to boast, is permitting abuses, the removal of which, Mr. Gordon says, "is loudly called for in the interest of decency and morality." Where are the churches? Are they merely firing guns over the heads of these abuses?

Minister Damon is now acting Minister of the Interior.

DUTY OF THE GOVERNMENT.

Those who wish to see Hawaii become in reality a civilized place must admire Mr. Allan Herbert's efforts to establish the condition under which alone it can exist. He has urged, as the Advertiser has urged, the creation of diversified industries. But if the people capable of carrying on these diversified industries were here, and ready for work where would they get the land needed for the purpose? The wanderer says: "Shove them off to Hawaii!" Yet this island of Oahu is barely settled, its valleys are hardly inhabited, and the laboring man or small farmer can get no land. It was said some years ago that the time would come when the lands about Waiakua would be occupied by small farmer proprietors; that an ideal village would exist there. But the title to the land is now in the sugar-god, and that great stretch of fertile plain is in the hands of a manager who represents a corporation, many of the stockholders in which have never seen, and will never see the place, and will take no interest in it excepting as it is a dividend payer. And so all of the land in this island available for small proprietors is gradually passing into the hands of the sugar corporations, who will be willing to permit only a tenancy of the soil on condition that it shall owe allegiance, first to the god of the dividend, and after that may enjoy any desultory worship of God and Humanity that is not inconvenient to the plantation.

Any one ought to acknowledge that it was an error on the part of the Government in not compelling, for instance, the Ewa corporation, when it asked for leave to increase its capital stock, without the payment of a dollar for it, to set aside a portion of its land for the uses of society.

The Government could well say: "You ask for a benefit; you ask us to let you put out millions of stock, and put three millions of dollars into your pockets—we grant it on condition that you put aside perpetually a part of your land for the homes of 'the bone and sinew' of Hawaii—as a contribution to the police force of the community—for every well-settled farmer becomes one of the guardians of peace in every community. This may take a trifling sum off your dividend in money, but it will add vastly to the assets of the community. It may keep your dividends at only sixty instead of seventy-five per cent on the original investment, but for this sacrifice you can erect a chapel on the plantation dedicated to 'Our Lady of Sorrow,' in which you can enter and freely lay before the Lord your troubles arising out of a meager dividend.

Of course, the powers of the Government to dictate terms, in the interests of civilization, to a corporation, are indefinite under the laws, but the needs of the hour required that the effort should have been made.

It is possible that the community would have refused to stand behind the Government, if it exacted such terms, but even with gloomy prospects of success, the terms should have been demanded. Stockholders receiving fifty per cent dividends would more readily agree to turning five per cent of the cash dividends into "moral" dividends than the stockholders who are now paying prices for stock that will yield in the long run not over ten per cent dividends.

At best only a few corporations are willing to permit their affairs to be influenced by "Sunday school" considerations, so that a part of their lands would be inalienably given to the good of the whole. The Government itself, representing all of the people, should, if it has the power, dictate to the plantations the terms on which they may get large advantages. On the other hand, it may be said that the sugar corporations under the iron necessities of the labor situation, will be finally compelled to do that which should be done. After interests have become vested it will be difficult to make any changes, for the first losers in the reconstruction will be those who cannot afford to stand the loss.

The sugar corporations must be protected. At the same time the community must be protected. Can it be done by transferring the most of the available land on this island to corporations, the stockholders of which will be in all probability within a few years, residents of the Pacific coast and absentee proprietors?

NO TRUCE IN MAN

Aguinaldo has much contempt for Gen. Otis, who insists on fighting while he negotiates. According to the usual custom of war hostilities are suspended while negotiations are pending. But Aguinaldo finds that since he attempted to murder the American troops at night in Manila, Gen. Otis has not reposed childlike confidence in him. Besides, as the knowing ones say a general who writes his dispatches to the enemy with the tip of his sword dipped in ink makes a wise statement. Aguinaldo has the same feeling toward the Americans that a Confederate prisoner expressed during the Civil war. "We use could fight, but then d—d Yankee was too continuous." The Philippines like some of the other Orientals believed in observing the ancient custom of suspending hostilities during the luncheon hour.

The miserable Indian wars have, after all, done to us a great service in educating men like Otis and some of his officers in the art of fighting bushwhackers. Their experience in the Rocky Mountains is an army of Jewell

We Know By Experience

Wise men use the experience of others and make it their own. Those who have taken Hood's Sarsaparilla are the ones who are competent to speak of its merits. The testimonials of cures by Hood's constitute a vast mass of testimony which proves the power of this medicine to cure a great variety of diseases. These cures often seem marvelous, yet they are perfectly natural and are easily explained. They are the necessary result of purifying and enriching the blood. "I have been troubled with scrofula all my life, and it effected my eyes so that I was obliged to remain in a dark room. I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. Now my eyes are so strong that the light never troubles me, and my health is good." Mrs. CARRIE WEAKE, Lompoc, Cal.

THE BISHOP AND THE SECOND CONGREGATION.

The correspondence between the Bishop of Honolulu and the Second Congregation, relating to a change of ecclesiastical base, does not display a festival of good will and mutual admiration. While the Bishop must concede that the wave of expansion in the Pacific has swept him off these islands where he has conscientiously and faithfully tried to maintain the Anglican church on a sand foundation of his own peculiar devices, he stubbornly refuses to acknowledge the hand of Providence in it. The Second Congregation also expresses the hope that he will close his career with honor—in some other place. It does not even intimate that under the new order of things it would like to give him the "honor of a nomination" as the politicians tender such honor to a man who is troublesome, with the understanding that he will promptly decline it.

While the Second Congregation with painful fortitude suggests that the Bishop's sphere of usefulness is not here, at least, there is, if one reads between the lines, a vague intimation that he may spend the remainder of his days in forcing "Second Congregation" into existence throughout Oceania.

The Bishop has some consolation in reviewing his eventful, but disastrous career in these islands. He has succeeded in severely worrying for some years the Second Congregation. Not for a moment has he permitted them to travel a macadamized road to glory, but by pick and shovel and dynamite has torn it up and made it as rugged as possible, while he has looked at their bleeding feet as his own benevolent work in making them true and honest pilgrims through this vale of tears.

COMEDY COMPANY.

The Hoyt-McKee Troupe a Treat for Honolulu.

The announcement of the Honolulu engagement or season of the famous Hoyt-McKee farce-comedy company is made in the Advertiser this morning by Manager Edward G. Cooke. This means the rarest of rare treats for theater-goers. The visit of the troupe to Honolulu is a genuine Christmas gift—a prize package of diamonds.

Harry Conor, the star, is the man for whom "A Trip to Chinatown" was written. He appeared in New York city as Welland Strong 1000 consecutive nights. Conor is a great society favorite. Nearly all the members of the company are almost as well known to the stage of the States as Mr. Conor. These include: Alene Crater, Viola Gillette, Madeleine Lack, Emma Siegel, the McCoy sisters, Henry Cashman, Robert Dunbar, Arthur Pade, Will Bernard, Hugh Ward and Helen Merrill. They will play "A Trip to Chinatown," "A Rag Baby" and "A Stranger in New York."

This is a high-class company, organized for Australia, India, South Africa and the Paris Exposition. The plays are without a serious feature. They are for laughing purposes and should just exactly suit the people here.

SUPPORT FOR A CABLE

OTTAWA, Ont., April 30.—A cable dispatch has been received from Joseph Chamberlain, Secretary of State for the Colonies, stating that the Imperial Government will not take any share in the Pacific cable but will contribute a sum not less than £20,000 sterling annually.

DYNAMITERS MAY BE RELEASED.

NEW YORK, May 2.—A cable to the Sun from Dublin says: It is stated that the men who are still imprisoned for participation in the murder of Lord Frederick Cavendish, Chief Secretary for Ireland, and T. H. Burke, Permanent Under Secretary, in Phoenix Park on May 8, 1882, will be liberated on the Queen's birthday, May 24th.

AN OLD FIRM HAS AGENCY FOR OLAA.

Big Block of Stock for Alexander & Baldwin—The Allotment.

A big step in advance was taken yesterday in Olaa matters by the closing of an agreement between the company and Alexander & Baldwin, by which the latter take $250,000 worth of paid up stock and secure the agency of the plantation for a term of years on very favorable terms to the plantation.

The deal was concluded on behalf of the agency firm by Mr. Baldwin in person, who returned to Maui last night.

The well known push of this firm, together with the ability and experience of its members in developing and conducting large sugar enterprises, and the confidence shown by it in the new enterprise, will have a strong buoyant influence on its stock, and as soon as it is listed it will undoubtedly become one of the most popular of the later enterprises. The stock is more widely distributed than any other in the country, there being over 600 separate stockholders.

The allotment of shares on the pro rata basis amounts to only one-third of the amount subscribed for on the public subscription list. That is to say, subscribers are getting only one-third of the number applied for. The certificates of stock will all be made out ready for delivery next Monday morning, at which time there will also be repaid to subscribers the amounts paid in by them for the shares which were applied for but which could not be obtained.

Shopkeeper Swindled.

The Japanese who runs the ice-cream stand on Hotel street, near Nuanu, has an idea of what it is to figure in a "gold brick" swindle. Last night a man rushed into his store and asked for five cents worth of ice-cream, putting down what was apparently a $5 gold piece. The Jap handed out $4.95 change and went to get the ice-cream. When he came back the customer was gone. He then examined the "five-dollar piece" and found that it was a gilded nickel. No trace of the swindler was found.

BEEF INQUIRY.

A Mild Vindication for Eagan—Direct Reproof of Gen. Miles.

WASHINGTON, April 28.—The War Department of Inquiry today concluded its work in connection with the allegations of Gen. Miles concerning the beef supplied to the army during the war with Spain. The verdict, however, is known to be that the charges which Gen. Miles made before the war investigating committee are not sustained. In reference to the refrigerated beef, although his contention that the meat was not a suitable continuous ration is admitted. There is direct criticism of Gen. Miles for failing promptly to bring to the attention of the War Department the reports made to him concerning bad beef, and "several individuals" are censured for failing to observe the proprieties of their positions as commanding officers in this and other respects.

Other officers who gave their testimony before the court were found also to have neglected what the court concedes to have been their duty in this respect, and all are blamed for this failure, but the court does not think further proceedings necessary.

A JURY SECURED

E. W. Jordan the Man Who Made Up the Dozen.

A NIGHT SESSION HELD

First Witness - It Will Be a Long and Tedious Trial - A Talesman Fined.

(From Thursday's Daily.)

A jury for the trial of the five Japanese charged with the commission of murder in the first degree during the progress of the Kahuku plantation riot of March 26th last, was secured at 4:40 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

E. W. Jordan, the Fort street merchant, was the twelfth man. The other eleven for the siege are: J. W. Tregloan, W. R. Sims, Theo Wolfe, John Emfinger, Henry Roth, T. E. Krouse, J. J. Sullivan, A. W. Howe, Fred W. McClesney, C. B. Huston and Charles H. Atherton.

Mr. Jordan was about the one hundredth man who went into the box. He told that he was slightly deaf. This trouble did not seem to be bad enough to interfere with the performance of his duty as a juror, and as he was otherwise qualified, he was sworn in with the dozen. It was after Mr. Jordan had developed to be satisfactory that Judge Robertson, counsel for the defense, remarked that he did not care to use any more peremptory challenges. Attorney-General Cooper said for the State for the fifteenth time, about, that the jury was all that the people desired.

Judge Perry administered the oath to the elect twice, having the first time omitted the names of four of the defendants, simply saying "So and so and others." The jurors were carefully instructed by His Honor, as were the bailiffs. The time for this trial will be quite close to three weeks. A host of Chinese and Japanese and a few haole and natives will testify. With the interpreters and the involving nature of the transaction the work of bringing out the facts will be slow.

When everything was ready for the opening of the case, Attorney-General Cooper said that the State was quite prepared to proceed, but would prefer to start "in the morning." Most of the jurors expressed willingness to work day and night. W. O. Smith thought it best to have proceedings only when attorneys and jurors were fresh. A couple of the jurors declared they were quite fresh, and Judge Perry decided that the start should be made at 7:30 in the evening.

At night the lights were bad, but it was to business at once. The opening statements were made briefly, and one first witness, a Pahe, was called. This man was on the stand till nearly 10 o'clock, when adjournment was taken to this morning. The Chinaman testified that he had been stabbed by one of the defendants, and he told of the part he believed some of the prisoners had taken in the wholesale murdering on that bloody Sunday afternoon at Kahuku.

The gentlemen of the jury have close quarters in the Snow cottage, on the grounds of the Hawaiian Hotel, and will be boarders at the hotel. They were cautioned not to talk to any one about the case or to let any one talk to them about it. The bailiffs were told to permit no conversation between jurors and outsiders concerning the Kahuku affair. It is presumed that the jury will be given permission to attend church on Sundays, and if they go in a body it will be a new experience for some of them.

Robert Shingle was called for the jury yesterday. He had not taken the oath to support the Republic and smilingly resisted the blandishments of W. O. Smith when the ex-Attorney-General suggested that the present was a good time to declare fealty and possibly serve the nation for a few weeks at $2 a day.

William Sarge was on the list but was not rounded up as the search of the police did not extend to health seekers at Wailua. James Gordon Spencer was excused because he is a member of the Board of Immigration. Frank Barwick had formed an opinion on the merits of the case and was fixed in his belief. A. Kuber was opposed to capital punishment. So was that kind hearted young man, C. L. Clement, who will take a vacation from talking people to death on advertising in the street cars and serve as a front reporter on this paper in place of John Emfinger, who is a juror. F. P. Chapin could not qualify. George Angus has not believed in capital punishment since "Jack" Lucas by the war had been strong a belief in capital punishment in such cases.

It is expected that the gentlemen of the jury will be at large in time to see the race next month. All received clothing from their homes last evening.

Frank Godfrey, who had been summoned for a trial at jury honors, disregarded the call, was brought in on a bench warrant and was fined $25 by Judge Perry. Mr. Godfrey was given into the keeping of Deputy Marshal Hitchcock pending payment of the $25, and spent last night as the guest of Governor Henry, of the reef.

Not in many years here has there been so much difficulty in securing a jury and so much interest in that section of a case. The matter was one with which every intelligent man was obviously more or less familiar, and in the selection of jurors the defense practically had its own way with its sixty challenges and the somewhat peculiar "causes."

Nearly every man who found his name on the panel of the special venire wished to avoid the service if possible.

KEEN FOR STOCK

Applications for Bank and Olaa Shares.

First American Doubly Subscribed - Application - Olaa Taken Three Times Over.

George W. Macfarlane, the promoter, Cecil Brown and F. M. Hatch, the attorneys, and a few others interested in the new enterprise were in the office of Mr. Brown yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock to close the list of subscriptions for stock in the First National Bank of Hawaii, with the Seligman, the Anglo-California Bank, Mr. Lillenthal, Perry S. Heath and others interested. James Campbell will be the heaviest stockholder here.

The Honolulu public asked for about double the amount of the stock that it had been calculated to place here at this time. Shares to the total of $300,000 par value were available. The application total is approximately twice this sum. There was over-subscription at the close of the first day the list was open. The list was held the second day for the reason that such had been the advertisement.

Allotment of this stock is to be made at San Francisco. The result will be known in about three weeks. It is likely that those who have signed and deposited their five per cent will receive in the neighborhood of fifty per cent of the stock for which they applied.

The stock in the new Olaa plantation company that was offered to Honolulu investors has been subscribed three times over. The final calculation was made in the office of B. F. Dillingham, in the Judd building last evening. The work of filling in the stock certificates has begun, and these will be ready for delivery by the end of the week. Trading in the stock will then be the order. It is not likely that the transfers will be heavy. Very few of those who have gone into Olaa did so for the purpose of speculating. Most of the buyers are strictly investors, and will hold the shares representing interest in one of the greatest enterprises ever launched in the Islands.

A TINY PISTOL THAT ACTS WELL.

One of a Pair of Miniatures Given to a Champion

Reference has been made to T. H. Benton, the champion pistol shot of the world, now sojourning in Honolulu. Mention was given of a pair of exremely small miniature pistols presented to Mr. Benton by a German official. The illustration herewith is that of one of these curios. The picture is exact size of the ornament. Mr. Benton has ammunition for these tiny pistols and frequently shows how they can be used. The pistol's work perfect, and Mr. Benton does exact shooting with them. The little cartridges are rim fire and the bullet has penetrating enough to make a hole in the side of a man's head. The head is a high expression of the nature of the miniature. The champion Benton's pistol is a very fine specimen of the art of the miniature. It is a sport that is made quite popular here.

T. H. BENTON'S PISTOL (Exact Size)

The police department received no advices concerning the reported killing of two small children by native women on Hawaii last week. It is learned that a resident of the city had a mention of the affair in a conversation.

Bringing Out a Star Under Difficulties - Experience With Miss Waldorf - Nance O'Neil.

Mrs. Ada Dow Currier, known to old New York theater goers as Miss Ada Dow, is a very interesting person. She attained especial fame as the instructor of Julia Marlowe. Besides this she trained Miss Maud Hoffman, who went from her hands directly to the position of leading lady for William Barrett; Miss Maud Adams, who became famous in the "Little Minister"; Nora O'Brien, now with Wilson Barrett; Mr. Frederick Paulding, and now she has Janet Waldorf in charge. It is very interesting to hear her chat about her pupils and others. She says that the story of Julia Marlowe's early training has never been published. Mrs. Currier said:

In 1883, I think it was, my brother-in-law, R. E. J. Miles, who has the Bijou theater, New York, was inspired with the brilliant idea of organizing a company of children to sing, light opera, and I was made directress. We had a great many things to contend with. I had to get dwarfs to carry the base parts. All my basses had to be carefully shaved every morning and be kept pretty well in the background to pass as children. The second difficulty was the great care that had to be taken of the children's voices. We had to have two sets of children, as it would not do to let them sing two nights in succession. In the chorus of one of the acts was Julia Marlowe, a rather bright child, who had a fine voice and a good idea of music. But there was nothing in the child to indicate the genius she afterwards displayed.

One day, after we had been on the road some time, the girl who sang the Lord High Admiral in Pinafore, was taken ill and I did not know what to do. While in this predicament little Julia Marlowe came to me and said that she could sing the part, begging me to let her try it. It was very risky. There was no time for rehearsal, but I had to take the chance. She did the part well, and looked very pretty in it too, and I let her have the role throughout the season.

When the juvenile season broke up in the West, Julia begged so hard to stay with me that I taught her minor parts so that she could be useful around the theater. Her possibilities had not yet dawned upon me. When I started for New York I thought it best to send the girl home, as I had no permission from her mother to keep her, and feared getting into trouble. She said her step-father did not like her and insisted that she would not dare to go home if I abandoned her. Fearing that the girl might go astray I sent for her mother, who stated that her husband liked all of her other children but Julia, and if I would take her she would consider it a favor.

After reaching New York I began to realize the girl's possibilities and gave up everything else to her instruction for four years. I then began to think of her debut. All the managers of the legitimate stage laughed at me for attempting to star a poor and unknown girl. I then appealed to my brother-in-law, Mr. Miles. He said that I could have the Bijou theater, that had never been known to play anything but burlesque. It was rather appalling to attempt a debut in Rosalind under such circumstances, but I had no other alternative. I knew all the newspaper men in New York and got her booked. My brother-in-law had run away to Chicago, thinking me a fool, but finding that I had committed him to a debut in the legitimate in the Bijou he was compelled to return and help me out to save his reputation.

Julia Marlowe's debut was a great success even at the Bijou and the great Abby then came to our assistance. My brother-in-law also helped us financially. From that time on Julia Marlowe's star never waned. She had the greatest power of application and to that as much as her genius is due her success.

My other pupils have all done well, as their records show, but I have hope for the future of Miss Janet Waldorf. She came to me shortly after my return from Hawaii in 1891, where I had come for my health. I told her that I would not take her in hand unless she was willing to work. I put her through four years' hard training and found that she has the same power of application that Julia Marlowe had, and I have great hopes for her future. After the trouble I had had with a debut in New York, and as New York had been surfeited with debutantes I decided to bring Miss Waldorf out in Hamilton, Ontario. We have now been two years successfully touring in the West with this company and I propose to take my pupil through the Orient and India and then bring her out in London before facing a New York audience.

I am perfectly delighted with our reception in Honolulu, and hope we shall meet with equal success all the way to London. I knew the delights of these Islands from my former visit here and that is why I decided to stop here on the way to the Orient. I do not claim that I have got the greatest company that is on the road but I tried to select them so that they would harmonize in the roles I have chosen for Miss Waldorf.

"What do you think of Nance O'Neil?"

"I think she should be the Bernhardt."

of America. It is unbecoming for me to give an opinion. But she should have been under the hand of a woman. They say that she has great application and is as plastic as a child under instruction. McKee Rankin has done everything he could for her, but it is doubtful if his rough hand was the one to deal with so great a genius. No one is greater in his line than Mr. Rankin. But Nance O'Neil is so much greater that she should have had more refined training. F. H. A.

For Omaha Show.

The matter of sending an exhibit to the Omaha Exposition was before the Chamber of Commerce yesterday. Mr. Umsted, the commissioner to Hawaii, was present and detailed his requests and the inducements for making an exhibit. He especially desires a complete foliage display and presented a list of plants which had been compiled by a landscape gardener of Washington. The list includes about every tree, shrub, plant or flower grown on the Islands. While all costs of transportation last year were paid by the Government, this year the Exposition will bear the expense.

A letter from the State Department was read by Mr. Hayward asking that the project be given hearty co-operation.

Mr. Dillingham suggested that a committee be appointed to form a plan of operation and submit it to the Chamber. He thought that the Exposition would be a good opportunity to take the first step in securing white labor for the Islands.

R. W. Shingle, B. F. Dillingham, W. W. Hall, E. C. Macfarlane and J. J. Egan were appointed as the committee suggested.

Mr. Shingle, who was the Hawaiian commissioner at last year's exposition, spoke in favor of the exposition and of sending a good-sized exhibit. The benefits accruing from such a course would be great.

Several members of the Chamber of Commerce have expressed willingness to contribute liberally to the fund that must be raised. Mr. Umsted says he is well pleased with the prospects for a Hawaiian exhibit.

Wm. Kenake, who was formerly employed in the post office, has accepted the position of adjutant's clerk at N. G. H. headquarters. He succeeds Lieut. Boyen, resigned.

TIMELY TOPICS

April 12th, 1899.

The cool weather we are having now won't last long, all probabilities are that after this cold snap is over we may have hotter weather than ever we had before. If this is the case, we would advise you to secure some means of keeping your butter and vegetables fresh, and at the same time making your ice bill a small item of expense. If you are open for suggestions let us mention a few things about our Alaska Refrigerators.

We can honestly say it is the best constructed refrigerator ever put on the market. It will keep provisions longer and use less ice than any other made.

The inner frame is made from perfectly odorless wood, and is lined with zinc, polished as bright as a mirror, presenting a very clean and attractive appearance.

They are also supplied with Patent Syphon and solid metal shelves. Our space will not permit us to say anything more in regard to this article, so we would like you to call and inspect them yourself. We have them in all sizes and are from $15 to $50.

If you get more ice than your refrigerator will hold we would advise you to get one of our

Drink PURE WATER.

If the advice given in those three words is heeded, good health will follow. City water is not good for many reasons, principally, because it is contaminated with vegetable and putrid matter of all descriptions. A simple analysis shows this to be a fact.

EXERCISE

Our doctors are busy treating patients who are suffering from complaints, more especially malarial disorders, which will be materially benefited if they drink a water that is pure and possesses curative features, as does Bartlett Spring Water.

DUE

Ask your family physician about the water, and if he is honest he will endorse its use.

All who have drank the water speak in the highest of terms for it.

This climate demands the use of such a water and you cannot afford to be without it.

VIGILANCE.

THE U. S. DREDGER

Will Be Used to Prepare Naval Station Here.

PLAN TO HURRY WORK

Blasting—Heavy Pumping—The Contractors—Material Now on the Way.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 28.—Work upon the construction of the naval coaling station at Honolulu will be rushed from this time until its completion, which is expected to be in about eight months. The contracts signed by the officials of the department have been received by the contractors, Cotton Brothers of Oakland, who will construct the piers, and Buckman & Campbell, who will do the dredging for the slips. Word preceded the actual arrival of the formally signed contracts by telegraphic notification from Washington to the men who will do the work that they would be given jobs, and they have made all possible preparations for the prosecution of the undertaking.

The work of dredging for the slips will be one of some magnitude, as there will have to be removed from the bottom of the bay something like 100,000 cubic yards of coral. There will be some little of this which will offer easy dredging, as it is soft and partially disintegrated by the flow of fresh water from the stream which comes into the bay at a point close to the site of the coaling station. The greater part of the dredging, however, will be in hard coral, which will have to be blasted before it can be elevated and sent ashore. For the purpose of meeting the conditions which obtain in the character of the bottom upon which they must work, Mr. Buckman has designed and is now having constructed a complete new dredge or shovel which will be used to bring to the surface the broken coral rock after the blasting from the bottom.

The timbers for the barge, which will carry the dredge, have been got out here and put together, so that, after the dismantling and shipping to Honolulu, there will be little delay and less expense in putting up the float. These timbers have now been shipped in the Mary Foster, and there will be ready for the machinery, when it has been made and shipped, the floating platform upon which it is to work. The dredge is of the pattern of steam-shovel which is used on the railroads of the West, where it is mounted upon a flatcar. There must be in the case of the dredge an entirely new plan of turntable and boom, for the reason that in this case the dredge must be constructed to go to a depth of 23½ feet below low water. Over the area which is to be prepared for berths for the vessels coming in to coal there is now from two to eighteen feet of water at the ebb tide, and there will be work for a large gang of men all the time during the carrying out of the contract.

There will be first a blasting out of the coral rock, which will be raised and dumped into a hopper on board the dredge. On this scow there will be placed a powerful pump, which will keep such a stream of water flowing through the system of pipes leading to the shore that every bit of the coral will be deposited on the low lands about the docks and coal-bunkers. All the machinery, except the turntable and boom, will be made here under the supervision of the men in the employ of the shovel company. It is expected that actual excavation will begin about the 1st of June.

THE STICK AND THE CRUST.

A stick and a crust of bread. Like the hands of a clock these two articles told the time of day for nearly a year in a certain man's life. Yet, unlike the hands of a clock, they were not visible at once. When he needed the stick he had no use for the crust; and when the crust was welcome he had no further occasion for the stick.

Albeit he was a young fellow of twenty-six, you would be wrong in supposing this stick to have been in the nature of a weapon for attack or defence. In that case the crust and the stick would have harmonized. As it was, they did not. For the stick was a support, not a club. Now, when a man feels the pressure of eighty or ninety years he is apt to want a travelling companion of that sort; but one in the very heyday of youth, not suffering from any injury and not constitutionally feeble, or malformed, should commonly be able to walk without a stick. And so this young man had always done up to the time when he fell out with the crust and with all that the crust stood for or represented.

His own account of the circumstances runs thus:—"Up to October, 1892, I had been a strong, healthy, and active man. When I commenced to feel weak and out of sorts. I was heavy, tired, and had no ambition or energy. What had come over me I could not imagine. I had a foul, nasty taste in the mouth and was constantly spitting up a thick, dirty phlegm. My appetite left me, and what little I ate lay on my stomach like lead, causing me great pain about the chest. A short, distressing cough settled upon me and troubled me day and night.

"At night my sleep was disturbed and broken with night sweats and frightful dreams. I had great pain at the left side around the heart, and my breathing was hurried and short. Next I began to spit blood and was greatly alarmed at it. I wasted away rapidly, losing over a stone weight in a month, and became so weak that I was unable to rise on my feet without assistance.

"Although only a young man of twenty-six I was obliged to hobble about with a stick, and could walk but a short distance even at that. Worried and anxious I attended the York County Hospital, where the doctors sounded me and said I was in a consumption.

Here we have another of the serious and often fatal mistakes that are made in cases like this. Misled by symptoms which in some respects resemble those of consumption, medical men hastily decide that the lungs are affected, treat the patient perfunctorily for the hopeless disease he is not afflicted with, and leave the result to chance. Hence he often dies of dyspepsia and its complications—his true disease—which, unlike consumption, is easily curable by the remedy our friend finally employed.

"They gave me cod-liver oil," he continued, "and medicines, but I got no better. In deed, I was so low-spirited and miserable I didn't care what became of me. As time passed I grew weaker and weaker.

"After I had endured ten months of this, Mr. R. W. Dickinson, the chemist in Walmsgate, advised me to try Mother Seigel's Syrup. After taking it a few days I felt much better, my appetite reviving and my food giving me no pain. I continued to take this medicine only, and soon the cough and breathing trouble left me and I began to gain strength and flesh. When I had taken three bottles I was as strong as ever, and could eat and enjoy even a dry crust. I have since had good health. You are at liberty to publish this letter and refer all inquiries to me. (Signed) Isaiah Lewis, 124, Walmsgate, York, April 8th, 1894."

If the reader wonders how a man could suffer so much, become so emaciated and weak, and be pushed so near the grave's edge through what is sometimes flippantly called "mere indigestion," he has yet to learn that the digestion is the arbiter of life and death. The "crust" (food), enjoyed and digested, means life and strength. Rejected it means the "stick," to supplement swift-coming weakness; and then the prone position, when help is vain. Mother Seigel's Syrup enabled Mr. Lewis to substitute the crust for the stick. It cured his dyspepsia.

BOTH REPUBLICANS.

Senators Whose Opinions on a Live Question Vary

(St. Louis Globe-Democrat.)

Two United States Senators have been among their constituents since the adjournment of Congress and have returned to Washington. Senator Hansbrough, of North Dakota, says the people of the Northwest approve the course of the administration in taking the entire Philippines archipelago and holding it. They see, he says, that it was the only thing that this government could do with proper regard for its duties and obligations toward the Filipinos, and the nations of the world. They are satisfied the United States should hold the Philippines and work out the problem. The sentiment which manifests itself among a few people in the East, that the government should cast loose the archipelago, or should immediately declare the purpose to do so in the near future, Senator Hansbrough says, finds no echo in his part of the country. Indorsement of the administration's course, the Senator affirms, is hearty and unqualified.

The other Senator is likewise a Republican. He is telling in Washington that if the administration does not declare for a policy against retention of the Philippines he will resign his seat in the Senate and take the stump next year to try to carry his state against expansion in this direction. Of course, it does not require two guesses to name this Senator. And no politician in Illinois will begin to get ready to wear Billy Mason's shoes on the strength of this wild threat. Senator Mason cites the action of a labor organization of Chicago as evidence that public sentiment in Illinois is against holding the Philippines. He is disposed to think that the argument against Asiatic cheap labor is going to cut a great figure in the question of the final disposition of the archipelago.

The Health Board Asks for Estimates on Filtration.

TWO KINDS OF PLANTS

Nuuanu and Makiki Valleys—Dr. Campbell of Kanai Resigns—A Report From Hilo.

(From Thursday's Daily.)

Engineer Rudolph Hering appeared before the Board of Health yesterday and discussed with the members what method of filtration should be used if a system were established.

"I would like to give my opinion that it would be wiser to construct a smaller plant, one that could be worked continuously. In regard to the method to be used I do not know of anything that would tend to change my opinion held two years ago in favor of a slow filter. This was expressed in my report. The mechanical system could be established sooner, but the slow method has advantages that make it more desirable for Honolulu.

"There are no reasons why, if it is decided to filter the water from one valley the same should be done with the other. With a slow filter for the Nuuanu system and a mechanical filter for the Makiki supply there would be great improvement."

Mr. Hering informed the Board that he had offered his services gratuitously while he was here in making estimates and investigation regarding the proposed filtration.

It was moved and carried that Mr. Hering be requested to send in estimates of cost of a slow filtration system for Nuuanu valley, capable of filtering 1,000,000 gallons; also an estimate on cost of both a mechanical and slow system for the Makiki supply.

The usual reports were read and approved.

The usual recommendation was made that Dr. A. C. Posey of Kentucky be granted a license.

The resignation of Dr. Campbell from Waimea district was accepted, and the secretary was instructed to send a letter of regret to the doctor and thank him for his efficient service.

The applications of Drs. King and Sandow for the position left vacant by the resignation of Dr. Campbell were continued till next meeting.

Letters from Dr. Moore of Hilo were read. He informed the Board that he had taken all possible steps to stay the spread of typhoid fever. He also stated that the hospital was situated with the Government stables mauka and a mule yard makai, making it in a very unsanitary position.

A motion was carried requesting the Minister of the Interior to remove the stables and mule yard from the vicinity of the hospital.

The report of the sanitary committee, together with the recommendation to secure a nurse to act in conjunction with the Government dispensary here was accepted and approved.

It was moved and carried that Mr. Reynolds be requested to proceed with the establishment of a branch store at the settlement.

Mr. J. W. Sims was appointed milk inspector to act under the direction of Mr. Shorey, food inspector. This department is now under the immediate control of the Board of Health.

The following members were present: G. W. Smith, president, in place of Attorney-General Cooper, absent; Secretary Wilcox, Dr. Emerson, Dr. Day, C. B. Reynolds and L. D. Kellogg.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 4.—The activity on the sugar plantations of the Hawaiian Islands is making lots of business for the transportation companies, says the Chronicle, and the carrying capacity of the Australia is being taxed to the utmost to find room for the big consignments of heavy machinery on their way to the islands. Captain Howard spent all of yesterday refusing freight, and Steward Oleson spent most of last night trying to crowd what had already been received into the vessel's hold. She will sail this afternoon, loaded to the full limit and with a full passenger list.

The ship William Mitchell, now at Port Angeles, Puget Sound, brought from Hilo an unwilling passenger. He is a Japanese pilot, who took the Mitchell out of the harbor. There was a stiff breeze blowing at the time, and the Mitchell struck a gait which soon left the sampan behind. When she was ready to drop the pilot, not a sail was in sight, and the weather was too heavy to warrant waiting for them. The question now is whether the pilot will draw his pay for the whole time, or a British ship out of San Francisco, or a similar case once, and was a pilot who paid the pilot's wages for his services to Liverpool and back.

NOTICE TO SHIPMASTERS.

U. S. Branch Hydrographic Office, San Francisco, Cal.
By communicating with the Branch Hydrographic Office in San Francisco, captains of vessels who will co-operate with the Hydrographic Office by recording the meteorological observations suggested by the office can have forwarded to them at any desired port and free of expense the most complete charts of the North Pacific Ocean and the latest information regarding the dangers to navigation in the waters of this frequent.

Mariners are requested to report to the office dangers discovered or any other information which can be utilized for correcting charts or sailing directions or in the publication of the pilot charts of the North Pacific.

Kilauea Art League.

Thursday evening next is the time appointed for the first view of the Kilauea Art League. This occasion is the opening reception intended for members and their invited friends. The exhibition will be open to the public each morning and for certain evenings for the two weeks following. Pictures have been somewhat delayed by the late arrival of framing material, but the committee of selection and hanging will soon be at work in order to have everything in readiness at the appointed time.

Honolulu Court.

A recent court martial is appointed to meet at Honolulu, H. I., at 11 o'clock, May 13, for the trial of prisoners who may be brought before it. The trial for service on this court are Maj. M. W. Wood surgeon; Capt. Adm. Sinker Charles B. Satterlee and Frederick Marsh, and Second Lieut. Wright Smith and G. R. Hancock, all of the Sixth Artillery, with First Lieut. D. W. Ketcham, Sixth Artillery, acting as Judge Advocate.

FOR BASE BALL.

Enthusiasm Aroused and Play is Assured.

Old Stars in the Field Again—Battery I of the Sixth Artillery—A Meeting of Players.

Large bodies start slowly but when they move they go with a rush. It has been definitely settled that Honolulu is to have a base ball season, and it is to be started at once.

The article which appeared in yesterday's Advertiser awakened the players to the state of affairs. They realized that unless something was done quickly base ball for this year would be a negative quantity.

An informal meeting was held at about 10 o'clock. It was decided that the Wela Ka Hao team should disband and be replaced by the old Star team. This was done in order to start fresh on the theory that a new broom sweeps clean. "Dick" Davis resigned as manager and Jock Carter was appointed. All Moore will remain captain. A meeting will be held at 7:30 this evening at which all players are urgently requested to be present. Important business will come up and affairs will be placed on a running basis.

The plan is to have a three-team league, consisting of the Stars, Kamehameha and Battery I. The "Kam" players are ready to play at short notice. The first game will be played on the 24th, the Queen's birthday. The Stars will face the boys from Battery I.

The Artillery lads are enthusiastic over the project. Yesterday they had two full lines out on the parade grounds and from the article of ball they put up in practice it is safe to say that the contests will be close and exciting.

"We hope they do form a league," said one of the best of the soldier players. "We do not play like national leagues, but with practice we can put up a fair game. We want to play for sport's sake, not only to win. The members of the artillery team will be chosen as much for their gentlemanly qualities as for their playing ability. As far as we are concerned the games will be played in a square and manly way."

If Honolulu does have a base ball season, and it seems certain that it will, it will be due in a great measure to the efforts of Duke McNichol. Yesterday he flew around and button-holed every player he met. The result was that enthusiasm was started and plans arranged.

THE REGULARS WILL

RELIEVE VOLUNTEERS.

State Troops on Luzon Are Soon to Be Replaced and Returned.

WASHINGTON, May 2.—Arrangements are being made at the War Department to expedite the transportation of reinforcements to Gen. Otis as much as possible, but owing to unforeseen obstacles it has been found necessary to postpone the departure of the transport Sherman, which will be ready to sail for Manila on May 22d. The Sixth Infantry, which was to have started from San Francisco on the 5th, will not be able to get away until the Sherman is ready to sail. That regiment, as well as the Sixteenth Infantry, is in the vicinity of San Francisco, and will start across the Pacific as soon as the transports are available.

Gen. Corbin said today that no change had been made in the plans of the department regarding the sending of reinforcements to the Philippines to take the place of the volunteer troops who are to be brought home, and that so far as he knew the orders for the movement of the Nineteenth Infantry from Porto Rico to Manila, after a short stop at Camp Meade, Pennsylvania, will be carried out.

MILES TO BE SAVED.

NEW YORK, May 3.—A Journal special from Washington says: President McKinley has decided that the court of inquiry has dealt too severely with Maj. Gen. Miles, Inspector Gen. Breckinridge and Maj. John D. Black. The President objects specifically, it is stated, to features of the court's report which arraigned Gen. Miles and Gen. Breckinridge for dereliction of duty. The President, therefore, is to be counted on to disapprove such recommendations of the court and to reflect in any manner on the authority of Gen. Miles to make delegations, or the time when he saw fit to make them, which was before the War Department Commission.

BERESFORD AND AUTOMOBILES.

LONDON, April 26.—Lord Charles Beresford came forth this week as a warm advocate of automobile cars. He attributed the congestion of the streets to the use of horses, and said "While I was in New York I was supplied with a motor car which had the appearance of a cab and the manners of a kangaroo, but it always got me safely to my destination."

Beresford also pointed out how much

Great Britain is behind the times in the use of electricity. He was amazed, he said, to see how much work was done by electricity on board American warships where the English use steam.

Back in the States.

J. Martin Miller returned to San Francisco by the transport Grant. Mr. Miller is a newspaper correspondent, and is well known in Honolulu. He recently published an interesting article on Hawaii which appeared in one of the Australia papers. He has been to Manila also.

Professor Sam P. French, principal of Punahou Preparatory school, sails on the July steamer for Victoria, where he will spend the summer vacation.

Brig. Gen. Hale was slightly wounded at Manila. So was Col. Hawkins, of the Tenth Pennsylvania.
